

BILL GATTON COLLEGE of PHARMACY

EAST TENNESSEE STATE UNIVERSITY

ACADEMIC PHARMACY FELLOWSHIP EMPHASES IN SOCIAL/BEHAVIORAL RESEARCH AND PUBLIC HEALTH

Overview:

The ETSU Gatton College of Pharmacy is pleased to offer a 2- to 3-year postgraduate fellowship training program with particular emphases in applied social/behavioral research and public health. The overarching goal of the program is to equip fellows for rigorous careers that advance pharmacy education and practice as informed through a public health perspective.

Program Description:

The fellow will develop their skills through multiple avenues at ETSU, including: contributing to research projects that advance pharmacy practice; completion of a Master of Public Health (MPH) degree; engagement in interprofessional centers and institutes, including ETSU's Center for Cardiovascular Risk Research; advancement of pharmacy practice skills through tailored experiences in community-based (outpatient) settings; development of teaching skills through active participation in the Gatton College of Pharmacy professional curriculum; and service to the college, state, and profession. The fellow will have the opportunity to complete a Teaching and Learning Certificate through the UNC CIPHER program. The length of the fellowship is individualized and based primarily on previous training and/or practice experience. Annual salary ranges from $43,000 to $50,000 on a sliding scale commensurate with previous experience.

Programmatic Aims:

- Provide a supportive training environment of such scope and quality that trainees develop the knowledge, confidence, and skills to perform research and teaching tasks independently by completion of the program
- Develop the trainee's ability to critically evaluate research methods and effectively communicate scientific thought in written and verbal form
- Advance scientific knowledge, with particular emphasis placed on the intersection of community-based pharmacy practice and public health
- Develop fellows both personally and professionally

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN...

GAINING EXPERTISE IN RESEARCH METHODS?

APPLYING RESEARCH TO TRANSFORM PHARMACY PRACTICE?

EARNING A MASTER OF PUBLIC HEALTH DEGREE?

DEVELOPING YOUR TEACHING SKILLSET?

WEBSITE:

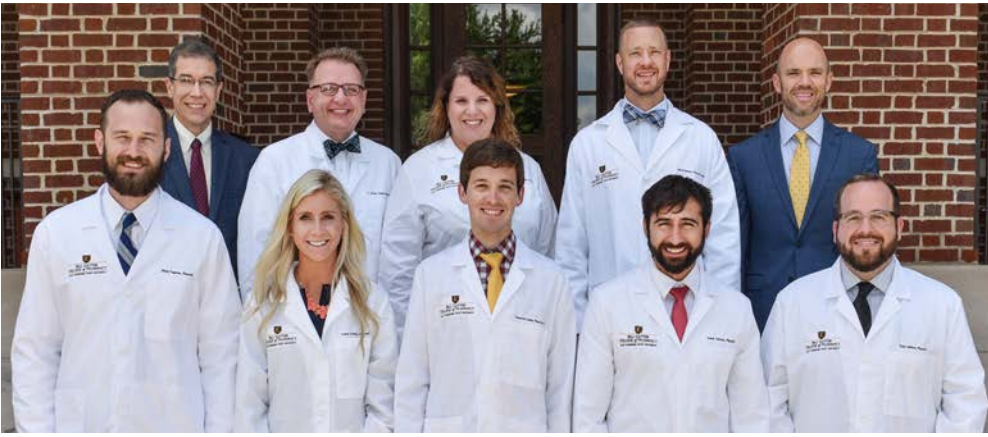

etsu.edu/rxpostgrads

FELLOWSHIP DIRECTOR

KariLynn Dowling-McClay,
PharmD, MPH, BCACP
Assistant Professor of Pharmacy Practice

dowlingk1@etsu.edu

423-439-6752

Training Environment:

Gatton College of Pharmacy is part of ETSU Health, which also includes the colleges of Medicine, Nursing, Public Health, and Clinical and Rehabilitative Health Sciences. ETSU enrolls nearly 15,000 students and is located in Johnson City, a vibrant, family-friendly community in beautiful Northeast Tennessee. Postgraduate trainee offices are located in the Department of Pharmacy Practice wing of the Interprofessional Education and Research Center on ETSU's Veterans Affairs campus in Johnson City. The fellow will be mentored by the program director and successful researchers, educators and clinicians across multiple colleges, including Pharmacy, Medicine, Nursing, and Public Health.

Qualifications:

Applicants must have completed a PharmD or other terminal pharmacy degree on or before June 30, 2023 and be eligible for pharmacist licensure in the State of Tennessee. Completion of a PGY-1 residency or equivalent pharmacy practice experience is preferred but not required. Applicants should have a strong desire for research, teaching, and practice in an academic environment.

Application:

Qualified applicants should submit their application materials to:

KariLynn Dowling-McClay, PharmD, MPH, BCACP
Assistant Professor of Pharmacy Practice
Director, Academic Pharmacy Fellowship
ETSU Gatton College of Pharmacy, Box 70657
Johnson City, TN 37614
dowlingk1@etsu.edu
423-439-6752

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS:

LETTER OF INTENT

CURRICULUM VITAE

THREE LETTERS OF RECOMMENDATION

APPLICATION DEADLINE:

JANUARY 9, 2023

BILL GATTON
COLLEGE of PHARMACY

EAST TENNESSEE STATE UNIVERSITY