ARTA 4957-002 Special Topics Title: "The Arts of Living", Seminar description: Art is often seen as â€œotherâ€: the thing we do in our other time (recreation, entertainment, a diversion) or something for others (the â€œartyâ€ types, the ones â€œwho can drawâ€). Art is generally not deemed as a way to accomplish anything practical or necessary. But what if art were a way of being that permeates moments we live everyday? At the beginning of the 20th century, American philosopher John Dewey advocated that art and the aesthetic were a fundamental, integral, constantly present part of everyday life, if only we were attentive to it. Dewey believed it was a quality of lifeâ€™s experiences, and that aesthetic experiences gave quality to living. So art as aesthetic experience is something open to any of us and, moreover, an essential part of living. This class is purposefully intended for students across disciplines, as voices from outside the art department are critical to explore these concepts and grapple with what they might mean for us today. Assignments will access personal and local resources. Subjects will make connections across time and place: from the nearby Highlander Center to the mountaintops of Tibet, from American chemist-collector Alfred Barnes to German Green Party activist-artist Joseph Beuys, from the 1930s WPA to todayâ€™s socially engaged practices, and more.

Note: ENVH 3040 W01 is being taught in a highly accelerated format in winter term. A minimum of two modules will be covered each week. A module includes readings, discussion forum, study questions, and a quiz. (The format used in other semesters has typically been one module per week). Students should not take this course if they have more than one outside commitment such as: another course; a job; family care duties; etc.. Vacation travel is ill-advised. No deadlines will fall on Christmas Day or New Year's Day. However, deadlines may occur in the early afternoons on the respective "eves" of the holidays (i.e., 12/24 and 12/31).

HIST 4957/5957 The European Enlightenment - We will explore the transformation of European culture and society from late 17th century through the 18th century; a movement known as the Enlightenment. Enlightenment thinkers engaged a wide range of topicsâ€”from politics, economics, social customs, religion, and genderâ€”to understand society and achieve progress. We will examine a range of primary sources from political and economic treatises to novels, satires, and plays to understand the significance of the Enlightenment on later revolutions, ideas about gender, race, and class.
