▼ Collapse Responses

- ▶ I only had one on campus course this semester, the move did not impact me greatly. I did however prefer my one class to be in person.
- ▶ At this point, I am still in the process of damage assessment. My professors have finally released how the rest of the semester is going to go in terms of lectures. Two of my professors have decided to record over their powerpoints, and the third has decided to post them for information and use other people's lectures for supplemental material. I am trying to digest how this is all going to work out, but I guess at this point, it will work out.

- ▶ I feel that it was the safest option for the current issues going on. I am glad that the university truly cares about the safety of its students by keeping us away from campus. It is a lot for students to take on I currently am now taking 6 online classes so it is a lot to try and keep up with and trying to teach ourselves all of this information.
- ▶ I had another set of classes moved online, and it changed my schedule up. I like the idea of the virtual classroom setting under these stressful time, but many things are changing for a lot of people who may not be used to the online setting.
- ▶ One of my classes will have a very easy online transition. I am worried that I will not learn everything correctly in my other class because I have to teach myself.
- ▶ It has been pretty frustrating with all of my classes moving online. I have had to abruptly move 4 hours away, so I do not have many of the resources I typically do for school. I also have wifi at home but it is not always consistent. I also had to leave my job which paid better than the job I have at home. This means I am having to work 50-60 hours a week to pay for school (which I'm not even allowed to be at). I do homework and classwork when I get off, but it has been difficult to rearrange everything.
- ▶ One of my classes needed me to be in class because of How Quant 2 works so I'm going to struggle with that
- ▶ I have taken several online classes in the past, but I prefer going to my classes in person. I don't mind it too much though! I get to slow down a bit and save some gas money!
- ▶ N/A
- ▶ N/A
- ▶ I'm a little worried because of my learning style. I like to be in class and doing examples while the teacher is explaining how to do things. I think this change will be a test to see how well I can adapt to a different learning style that might not be the best for me.

- ▶ Online classes are inherently complicated. I have a hard time balancing all of the classes that I have as I am a full time student and work full time. During this time I have two classes that were supposed to be in class changed into online courses. It will make it challenging because those classes have added many busy work assignments so as to make sure we understand the material that was supposed to be covered in class. I know the upcoming month plus will be challenging, but I will try my best to have all of my assignments turned in on time!
- ▶ I am a little nervous with all of my classes being online especially because I will be working on them from my home and usually I work on my class work at the library so I think I will find it difficult to find a balance for the new changes.
- ▶ All but one of my classes were online so it was not a big deal to me. The one class I had that was in class was impacted a bit as we had a large group project that is not feasible to do without in person meetings.
- ▶ I don't know how to feel. I like staying at home but I feel a lot of my classes need to be in person.
- ▶ I am concerned about certain classes going online because I am not particularly talented at math and one of my classes that went online was a math class. I do worry that I will not be able to fully grasp the concepts outside of the classroom.
- ▶ I only had one class on campus and the rest of mine were already online, so it is not that much of a change for me. The new "Zoom" part will be a change so it will be interesting to see how that goes.
- ▶ I do not like having all of my classes online. I will struggle understanding the material more than I already do. All classes being online adds more stress.
- ▶ I'm a little sad, because the classes I was taking in person had really great lectures.

Question 3

Has the coronavirus COVID-19 impacted other aspects of your life (work, housing, etc.)? If so, tell me more.

▼ Collapse Responses

- ▶ COVID-19 has impacted me by forcing me to work from home.
- ▶ I work at Pals so I am constantly with the public on the windows so we now have to wear gloves everywhere in the building to keep us safe from the public. I didn't have any problems with housing because i still live at home. Other than not being able to go anywhere the other changes are church cancellations and all of classes being online.
- ▶ The only thing outside of school that this has impacted is work. The reason for this is because I work at Johnson City Medical Center. The stresses in this come with the uncertainty of case numbers and the presence of this virus. As far as housing and everything, nothing has changed.
- ▶ No
- ▶ I work at a retirement and nursing home, so I lucky that I have not been layed off. I have had to pick up a lot of hours in order to pay for school, so work has become a primary focus for me now. Also, since I am around people who are more in danger of the virus everyday (the elderly), I am not able to go anywhere besides work and home. I have to be very cautius. Housing has been challenging because I had to move out of the dorms, but was under the impression that I would be returning early for work. This means I did not bring everything home. Now I do not have many of my things. I have had to move back into my mom's house, which is four hours away. It has been difficult to reschedule my life to complete school here. I feel selfish for feeling like this because this has obviously impacted some people much more substantially than it has me, but it is still very frustrating!
- ▶ I live at home, so I don't have to worry about that. However, I am concerned about wifi. I've always taken tests at ETSU because my house has never had good wifi. The past week, probably because everyone is flooding the system, our wifi works for a few hours and then loses its connection. We have tried every wifi provider but none work well. My Mom ended up getting Onstar's wifi for her car. I'll have to take all of my tests and quizzes here.

- ▶ Yes, I had my job cancelled for the fourthcoming months so I now need another job to help cover my expenses and rent. If i am not able to do so, i might have to go back home. I also have my family in Kansas, with my grandmother showing symptoms of this virus. I might have to travel to help my famiy out while they are finding ways to take care of her. My family has gotten hit hard by this virus, and the decisions made to stop the spread. Being 15 hours from them really adds stress when my grandma might have the virus.
- ▶ Yes, it's been stressful figuring out what to do with a living situation. My options were either go home to Chattanooga or stay here and let my girlfriend live in my apartment instead of going back home to a very toxic environment. I also don't really know what to do for money for food because my job got shut down which just caused more stress. I also have severe asthma so I've just been a little more scared of getting than most people. I've had to be a lot more cautious when in public areas.
- ▶ My work has been impacted significantly. Every morning we have to go through a heavy cleaning of our vehicle and ourselves with health checks (temp testing) so as to make sure we do not spread the virus.
We are not allowed to eat out which requires us to prep meals for our lunches. I generally ate out or ate on campus for my breakfast and dinner however now with neither being an option I am forced into cooking every meal. I am also not able to visit with my family as they take care of my aging grandfather which is entirely quarantined.
Yes, It affects us all. The economy is on the brink of collapse. All we can do is take it a day at a time and do our best.
Thanks for taking the time to ask this. Most professors dont so much care.
- ▶ I live off campus in Kingsport and work at a church doing youth ministry. Nothing has really changed exopt that I have just been stuck doing everything inside. I have been doing zoom meetings with my students and lots of homework.
- ▶ Yes, I am no longer working which has put a financial strain on me because I rent a house and I have bills to pay.
- ▶ It has impacted my work as the bowling alley I work at has closed for at least two weeks. As of right now they are paying us for those two weeks, but I am anxious to see what the future will bring if they have to shut down for a longer time period.

- ▶ The only thing that has affected me is not being able to get groceries with everyone panic buying everything I've had to go to my parents just for essential items because I couldn't find them in any stores, but other than that it hasn't changed too much besides being stuck in the house more often
- ▶ I was recently laid off from my job at a real estate agency because no one is buying houses and they are loosing money. My dad has stage 4 brain cancer so I worry about getting him sick. It has made me more cautious about leaving the house. I have even had to take the time to find an alternative place to stay incase I got sick.
- ▶ No it hasn't.
- ▶ COVID -19 shut down my place of employment with no estimation of when we will reopen. I had been working around 35 hours a week and am concerned about my upcoming bills.
- ▶ My work has currently been closed since Wednesday the 18th. It is supposed to be closed til April 6th, but I suspect longer than that. I hate not being able to work and I hate having to stay at home all day, so it's been challenging to stay busy. I know everybody is going through the same thing as me, so it is hard for everybody. I'm ready for this to be over and life to go back to normal.
- ▶ My life has been impacted tremendously. I am a full time student while also working full time to be able to support myself. My work had to close due to COVID-19. I am having to move back home to Knoxville while trying to keep up with school work.
- ▶ I got laid off from my serving job, and I recently filed for unemployment. Luckily, my family is helping me out some with rent; however, I was suppose to be saving money to move for graduate school. I could definitely be in a worse situation, but the virus has still made an impact on my life.
